VALLEY OF MEUSEFrench Claim to Have Defeated Advance Guard.

London, Aug. 17.—Despite the repeated repulses which they have suffered the German battalions continue to move forward for a decisive encounter, which cannot be delayed much longer.

While there has been a lull in the fighting in Northern Belgium the invaders are sweeping along the valley of the Meuse, south of Namur, and have reached Dinant, where part of a strong French force, which is established behind that town, took the offensive and defeated them.

The incident shows that the French crossed the Belgian frontier to join hands with their allies not a moment too soon. All along the Alsace-Lorraine frontier the advance guards of the two opposing armies have come into contact and, according to French official reports, the Germans have been driven back everywhere with loss.

Strong French forces are now in possession of all the passes of the Vosges mountains, from the west as far as those leading down to Colmar. Further south French forces are ready to proceed over the flat country toward Muelhausen.

The French have taken the offensive along the line from Lunéville to Sarrebourg, on the German frontier, but here, as in the other theaters of war, the main armies have not come into contact.

On the Austro-Serbian and Austro-Russian frontiers both sides report victories in encounters. But these can have little effect on the general result unless the Serbians compel the Austrians to send stronger forces in an attempt to subdue them.

Austria is preparing to resist an attack on her shores of the Adriatic, which possibly will be undertaken by the joint Anglo-French fleet.

It is explained that the state of siege which has been proclaimed in Bulgaria is simply a precautionary measure so that the country will be prepared in case of emergency.

BATTLE REPORTS BASELESS

Berlin Denies Stories of Austro-Serbian Conflict.

London, Aug. 17.—The following dispatch, received by wireless from Berlin, was given to the London newspapers: "The report of a big Austro-Serbian battle, circulated in Paris and London, are untrue."

"Two Russian cavalry divisions appeared in the east and, having set fire to the small town of Margharova, Eastern Prussia, withdrew over the frontier."

"Unimportant engagements have taken place in Togoland (German West Africa) between patrols and invading French troops. The enemy lost three men killed, but there were no German losses. English troops also have entered Togoland, but have not come in contact with the Germans."

GAIN IN BEEF PRODUCTION

Minnesota Leads Surrounding States Every Year.

St. Paul, Aug. 17.—Minnesota's status as a beef producer among the surrounding states is of the first rank, according to figures prepared by Fred D. Sherman, commissioner of immigration. During the last thirteen years the number of beef cattle shipped from Minnesota points to the South St. Paul Union Stock Yards company has jumped from 123,838 head in 1900 to 308,200 in 1913, a net gain of 184,362 head.

From 1907 to 1913 there has been a steady gain with the exception of one year. Minnesota has led surrounding states every year. Careful estimates show that in 1907 the state marketed 104,457,799 pounds of beef at a value of $2,241,533.97, while in 1913 191,446,664 pounds were sold at a value of $11,861,632.48, a net increase in pounds of 86,988,865 and an increase of $8,620,098.51.

The decided increase in the value over the number of pounds is due to the increase in value of beef since 1911.

DEVELOPMENTS IN EUROPE

While the German forces are pushing forward through the valley of the Meuse, and still more extensive operations are in progress along the Alsace-Lorraine frontier, where the French and German armies are in contact, Japan has sent an ultimatum to Germany demanding the withdrawal of the German warships from the Orient and the evacuation of Kiauchau, a German protectorate in China.

Japan's ultimatum gives Germany until Sunday to comply with the demands. Owing to cable interruption, however, Japan has not been able to deliver the ultimatum to Germany, and it is announced from Washington that the United States will undertake this task.

Peking reports that three British regiments have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to go aboard transports and it is presumed that they will co-operate with the Japanese land forces, if force of arms is resorted to.

In Tokio the Japanese ultimatum has created a deep impression and the Japanese premier and foreign minister have counseled the Japanese to maintain a calm attitude.

Late dispatches report an offensive movement by the French from Lunéville to Sarrebourg, but this is considered as yet merely an outpost affair.

Will Open Dikes in the Event of an Invasion.

Washington, Aug. 17.—No act which could be construed as a violation of the neutrality of The Netherlands has been committed up to this time, according to an official communication to The Netherlands legation here. Secretary De Theauffort, who took the information to the state department, said his country is prepared to defend its neutrality to the utmost, that the army is mobilized and that natural defenses, the dikes, would be used at a moment's notice if there should be any attempt at invasion.

Special to Dispatch:

Peking, August 17, 2:15 P. M.—China is deeply stirred over the Japanese ultimatum to Germany. Her statesmen see in it an attempt on the part of Japan to take possession of the rich German colony. Japan Sends Ultimatum to Germany.

ASKS EVACUATION OF CHINESE TERRITORY

Insists Upon Answer to Her Proposal by Next Sunday.

Tokio, Aug. 17.—Japan sent an ultimatum to Germany at 8 p. m. Saturday demanding the withdrawal of German warships from the Orient and the evacuation of Kiauchau, and giving Germany until Sunday, Aug. 23, to comply with the demand. Otherwise the ultimatum states Japan will take action.

The general expectation here is that the ultimatum will be followed by war.

Takaaki Kato, the Japanese foreign minister, simultaneously with the dispatch of the ultimatum, conferred with George W. Guthrie, the American ambassador, and made him a broad statement calculated to assure the United States that American interests in the Far East will be safeguarded and the integrity of China upheld.

Owing to doubts whether communications with Berlin were assured Japan, in order to insure the arrival of the ultimatum, forwarded it to Berlin by six channels, including Washington and Stockholm. The government also notified Count von Reud, German ambassador to Japan, and likewise retarded the time limit for a reply until Aug. 23.

Premier Tells of Ultimatum.

Count Okuma, the Japanese premier, invited the peers, the newspaper men and the leading business men of Tokio to come to his office at noon and 4 and 6 p. m., respectively, when he made known to them the terms of the ultimatum and announced that he will give out the negotiations in connection with the alliance. The ultimatum follows:

"We consider it highly important and necessary in the present situation to take measures to remove the causes of all disturbances of the peace in the Far East and to safeguard the general interests as contemplated by the agreement of alliance between Japan and Great Britain."

"In order to secure a firm and enduring peace in Eastern Asia, the establishment of which is the aim of the said agreement, the Imperial Japanese government sincerely believes it to be its duty to give the advice to the Imperial German government to carry out the following two propositions:

Asks Removal of Warships.

"First—To withdraw immediately from Japanese and Chinese waters German men-of-war and armed vessels of all kinds and to disarm at once these which cannot be withdrawn."

"Second—To deliver on a date not later than Sept. 15, to the Imperial Japanese authorities, without condition or compensation, the entire leased territory of Kiauchau, with a view to the eventual restoration of the same to China."

"The Imperial Japanese government announces at the same time that in the event of it not receiving by noon on Aug. 23, 1914, an answer from the Imperial German government signifying its unconditional acceptance of the above advice offered by the Imperial Japanese government, Japan will be compelled to take such action as she may deem necessary to meet the situation."

Inspired utterances express regret at the inability to maintain neutrality, but say that Great Britain, the ally of Japan, is compelled to defend herself against the aggressions of Germany."

ORDERS FOR BRITISH TROOPS

Peking, Aug. 17.—Copies of the Japanese ultimatum to Germany were handed to the Chinese government and the foreign legations.

AMERICAN CRUISERS
ARRIVE AT FALMOUTH

Will Soon Proceed on Gold Distributing Mission.

Falmouth, Eng., Aug. 17.—The United States cruisers Tennessee and North Carolina dropped anchor in Falmouth harbor. The North Carolina reached port about half an hour before her sister ship.

Scores of boats quickly swarmed around the cruiser, their occupants cheering and waving handkerchiefs. When some of the Americans landed the people greeted them warmly and told them that had due notice been given of their coming they would have received a formal and most cordial welcome.

The Tennessee has on board more than $5,000,000 in gold, a small amount of which will be distributed in London. The remainder is destined for the continent to help stranded Americans there to return home.

The Tennessee and North Carolina will proceed on Tuesday, calling first at Cherbourg. The cruisers will then separate and proceed to different points.

REASON FOR JAP ACTION

Offensive and Defensive Alliance With Great Britain.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The offensive and defensive alliance between Japan and Great Britain, under which Japan has issued an ultimatum to Germany, has for its avowed purpose the consolidation and maintenance of the general peace in the regions of Eastern Asia and of India, the preservation of the common interests of all powers in China, by insuring the independence and integrity of the Chinese empire, and the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations in China, and the maintenance of the territorial rights of the high contracting parties and the defense of their special interests in the regions of Eastern Asia and of India.

Under the terms of the treaty, whenever any of these interests are jeopardized, and either party to the agreement should become involved in war in defense of its territorial rights or any of the special interests, the other party is bound to aid its ally, conducting the war in common, and making peace in mutual agreement with it.

AMERICAN
NEUTRALJapan's Action Does

ON SECRETARY BRYANState Department Will Forward
Jap Ultimatum.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The Japanese ambassador, Baron Chinda, delivered to Secretary Bryan the written announcement of Japan that an ultimatum has been addressed to Germany requesting the latter's withdrawal from her field of activity in China.

At the same time he communicated the assurances of Japan to the United States that the utmost endeavor will be exercised to safeguard the interests of this country and all others not immediately concerned in the present operations.

The United States, it became known after Baron Chinda's call on Mr. Bryan, does not intend to be drawn in any way into the controversy, regarding it as a matter of concern between Germany and Japan. The American government considers satisfactory the promise of Japan of "eventual restoration to China" of the territory of Kiauchau.

The ambassador presented a communication from the foreign office at Tokio which embodied the substance of the ultimatum and added a strong statement concerning Japan's purposes of maintaining the territorial integrity of the Chinese republic by restoring to her the territory of Kiauchau, originally taken from China by Germany as an act of reprisal for the killing of German missionaries.

No Reference to America.

While the statement made no direct reference to the United States it gave assurance in general that the interests of all powers interested in maintaining the territorial status quo in the Far East will be protected to the utmost.

It developed as a result of the conference that Japan has no assurance up to the present time that its ultimatum had been delivered to Germany, owing to the cable difficulties with that country. In order to make certain of its delivery a copy of the ultimatum will be communicated to Berlin through the channels of the American government.

Japan's ultimatum to Germany was received by American officials as one of the gravest developments of the war situation, bringing for the first time the great military power of the Far East into a range of conflict heretofore held within Europe.

The salient features in this new and grave issue, as made known through authoritative sources, are as follows:

Japan's action was taken on the proposal of Great Britain and after full conferences which led to the determination that the Anglo-Japanese treaty of alliance applied to the present situation; the two allies, Japan and Great Britain, are therefore co-operating in the action now in progress.

Endangers Integrity of China.

Japan's ultimatum is in the first instance a fulfillment of her part in the Anglo-Japanese alliance, but it is designed also—an issue having arisen—to terminate Germany's control of Kiauchau, which, Japan holds, endangers the integrity of China and the peace of the Orient.

The action of Japan did not come as an entire surprise to the United States government. It was the climax of a series of diplomatic moves in which the United States has been consulted and has endeavored to maintain the principle of the integrity of China.

The military and naval conditions at Kiauchau, and the political events leading up to the present crisis, were outlined by a distinguished diplomat of the Far East. He pointed out that Kiauchau is at present the great German stronghold of the Orient. Since it was taken from China elaborate fortifications have been built, with bastions and glacis, until it is now considered to be as formidable as the great fortress at Port Arthur, in which the Russians withstood the Japanese siege of months.

Rendered speechless by fright and confusion, all she could do was to pull her letter out of her pocket and point to it.

"Ah! A la poste," cried the commissaire laughingly, and he instructed the officer to take her to the nearest post office. Going along, poor, disconcerted Mrs. Smith muttered to herself: "Oh, bother genders! Who'd have thought a police station was a gentleman and a postoffice a lady?"—London Standard.

FORWARDS DEMANDS ON KAISER

Japan Sends Ultimatum to Germany.

ASKS EVACUATION OF CHINESE TERRITORY

Insists Upon Answer to Her Proposal by Next Sunday.

Tokio, Aug. 17.—Japan sent an ultimatum to Germany at 8 p. m. Saturday demanding the withdrawal of German warships from the Orient and the evacuation of Kiauchau, and giving Germany until Sunday, Aug. 23, to comply with the demand. Otherwise the ultimatum states Japan will take action.

The general expectation here is that the ultimatum will be followed by war.

Takaaki Kato, the Japanese foreign minister, simultaneously with the dispatch of the ultimatum, conferred with George W. Guthrie, the American ambassador, and made him a broad statement calculated to assure the United States that American interests in the Far East will be safeguarded and the integrity of China upheld.

Owing to doubts whether communications with Berlin were assured Japan, in order to insure the arrival of the ultimatum, forwarded it to Berlin by six channels, including Washington and Stockholm. The government also notified Count von Reud, German ambassador to Japan, and likewise retarded the time limit for a reply until Aug. 23.

Premier Tells of Ultimatum.

Count Okuma, the Japanese premier, invited the peers, the newspaper men and the leading business men of Tokio to come to his office at noon and 4 and 6 p. m., respectively, when he made known to them the terms of the ultimatum and announced that he will give out the negotiations in connection with the alliance. The ultimatum follows:

"We consider it highly important and necessary in the present situation to take measures to remove the causes of all disturbances of the peace in the Far East and to safeguard the general interests as contemplated by the agreement of alliance between Japan and Great Britain.

"In order to secure a firm and enduring peace in Eastern Asia, the establishment of which is the aim of the said agreement, the imperial Japanese government sincerely believes it to be its duty to give the advice to the imperial German government to carry out the following two propositions:

Asks Removal of Warships. "First—To withdraw immediately from Japanese and Chinese waters German men-of-war and armed vessels of all kinds and to disarm at once these which cannot be withdrawn.

"Second—To deliver on a date not later than Sept. 15, to the imperial Japanese authorities, without condition or compensation, the entire leased territory of Kiauchau, with a view to the eventual restoration of the same to China.

"The imperial Japanese government announces at the same time that in the event of it not receiving by noon on Aug. 23, 1914, an answer from the imperial German government signifying its unconditional acceptance of the above advice offered by the imperial Japanese government, Japan will be compelled to take such action as she may deem necessary to meet the situation."

Inspired utterances express regret at the inability to maintain neutrality, but say that Great Britain, the ally of Japan, is compelled to defend herself against the aggressions of Germany.

ORDERS FOR BRITISH TROOPS

Soldiers in China Preparing to Board Transports.

Peking, Aug. 17.—Copies of the Japanese ultimatum to Germany were handed to the Chinese government and the foreign legations.

As it is not considered likely that Germany will comply with the Japanese demands preparations are proceeding for a campaign by force of arms. The British regiments in China have received instructions to hold themselves in readiness for transportation.

AMERICAN CRUISERS ARRIVE AT FALMOUTH

Will Soon Proceed on Gold Distributing Mission.

Falmouth, Eng., Aug. 17.—The United States cruisers Tennessee and North Carolina dropped anchor in Falmouth harbor. The North Carolina reached port about half an hour before her sister ship.

Scores of boats quickly swarmed around the cruiser, their occupants cheering and waving handkerchiefs. When some of the Americans landed the people greeted them warmly and told them that had due notice been given of their coming they would have received a formal and most cordial welcome.

The Tennessee has on board more than $5,000,000 in gold, a small amount of which will be distributed in London. The remainder is destined for the continent to help stranded Americans there to return home.

The Tennessee and North Carolina will proceed on Tuesday, calling first at Cherbourg. The cruisers will then separate and proceed to different points.

REASON FOR JAP ACTION

Offensive and Defensive Alliance With Great Britain.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The offensive and defensive alliance between Japan and Great Britain, under which Japan has issued an ultimatum to Germany, has for its avowed purpose the consolidation and maintenance of the general peace in the regions of Eastern Asia and of India, the preservation of the common interests of all powers in China, by insuring the independence and integrity of the Chinese empire, and the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations in China, and the maintenance of the territorial rights of the high contracting parties and the defense of their special interests in the regions of Eastern Asia and of India.

Under the terms of the treaty, whenever any of these interests are jeopardized, and either party to the agreement should become involved in war in defense of its territorial rights or any of the special interests, the other party is bound to aid its ally, conducting the war in common, and making peace in mutual agreement with it.

ALL QUIET AROUND LIEGE

Brussels Dispatch Declares Forts Are Still Intact.

Brussels, via Paris, Aug. 17.—An official communication says: "The situation at Liege is quiet. The forts have not been affected by the German fire.

"A German commander who had received a ball in the hip had his wound treated and continued to give orders from a wheeled chair.

"The minister of war has no knowledge of the death of General von Emmich, commander of the Tenth German army corps.

"Maximum prices of provisions have been fixed by royal decree."

AMERICAN ATTITUDE NEUTRAL

Japan's Action Does Not Affect Us.

BARON CHINDA CALLS ON SECRETARY BRYAN

State Department Will Forward Jap Ultimatum.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The Japanese ambassador, Baron Chinda, delivered to Secretary Bryan the written announcement of Japan that an ultimatum has been addressed to Germany requesting the latter's withdrawal from her field of activity in China.

At the same time he communicated the assurances of Japan to the United States that the utmost endeavor will be exercised to safeguard the interests of this country and all others not immediately concerned in the present operations.

The United States, it became known after Baron Chinda's call on Mr. Bryan, does not intend to be drawn in any way into the controversy, regarding it as a matter to rely between Germany and Japan. The American government considers satisfactory the promise of Japan of "eventual restoration to China" of the territory of Kiauchau.

The ambassador presented a communication from the foreign office at Tokio which embodied the substance of the ultimatum and added a strong statement concerning Japan's purposes of maintaining the territorial integrity of the Chinese republic by restoring to her the territory of Kiauchau, originally taken from China by Germany as an act of reprisal for the killing of German missionaries.

No Reference to America.

While the statement made no direct reference to the United States it gave assurance in general that the interests of all powers interested in maintaining the territorial status quo in the Far East will be protected to the utmost.

It developed as a result of the conference that Japan has no assurance up to the present time that its ultimatum had been delivered to Germany, owing to the cable difficulties with that country. In order to make certain of its delivery a copy of the ultimatum will be communicated to Berlin through the channels of the American government.

Japan's ultimatum to Germany was received by American officials as one of the gravest developments of the war situation, bringing for the first time the great military power of the Far East into a range of conflict heretofore held within Europe.

The salient features in this new and grave issue, as made known through authoritative sources, are as follows: Japan's action was taken on the proposal of Great Britain and after full conferences which led to the determination that the Anglo-Japanese treaty of alliance applied to the present situation; the two allies, Japan and Great Britain, are therefore co-operating in the action now in progress.

Endangers Integrity of China.

Japan's ultimatum is in the first instance a fulfillment of her part in the Anglo-Japanese alliance, but it is designed also—an issue having arisen—to terminate Germany's control of Kiauchau, which Japan holds, endangers the integrity of China and the peace of the Orient.

The action of Japan did not come as an entire surprise to the United States government. It was the climax of a series of diplomatic moves in which the United States has been consulted and has endeavored to maintain the principle of the integrity of China.

The military and naval conditions at Kiauchau, and the political events leading up to the present crisis, were outlined by a distinguished diplomat of the Far East. He pointed out that Kiauchau is at present the great German stronghold of the Orient. Since it was taken from China elaborate fortifications have been built, with bastions and glacis, until it is now considered to be as formidable as the great fortress at Port Arthur, in which the Russians withstood the Japanese siege of months.

Gibraltar.

The famous Rock of Gibraltar, the British stronghold, is about 1,437 feet in height.

Dealers have been informed that an advance of 20 per cent has been made in automobile tires within the past week, which brings to mind that oft repeated saying that "War is hell."

A statement is made that the film industries of the world have $750,000,000 invested in the work. The movies and the auto factories seem to have a call on the finances of the public that is hard to beat.

Suit has been filed to test the state oil inspection law, the VanTilburg oil company refusing to pay for inspection on the ground that in reality it means nothing to the state. This is the first action of the kind instituted although the law has been questioned many times.

Julius V. Kroepf, a cook in Carlings restaurant in St. Paul, has a souvenir of the Franco-Prussian war in 1870-71 in the shape of a paper giving some idea of the distress that is occasioned by war, the souvenir having been kept by his father who was a soldier at that time. The paper shows that 6,043 persons died of starvation in France during the war, and during the siege of Paris, cat and dog meat were luxuries enjoyed only by the rich. A pound of horse meat sold for 12 francs, $2.40; dog meat cost 80 cents a pound, and cats retailed at $3 each. One pound of ham cost $8, and a hare was worth $15. Turkeys sold at $30 each, while eggs brought $1 each. A bushel of carrots cost $15, and a bushel of potatoes $7. One cabbage was worth $3.20 and turnips 20 cents each. Onions sold for $16 a bushel and leeks cost 20 cents each. One stalk of celery sold at 40 cents. Citizens and soldiers had to stand in line for five hours to obtain 300 grams of bread, composed of rich bran, oats and chopped straw.

Republicans of the state are receiving considerable advice from their democratic friends this year, in fact the democrats think it is a wise plan to forget political lines and vote the democratic ticket, thus making it non-partisan—for the republicans. Especially so is this urged in the matter of the governorship and while there may be disaffection in some localities as to the head of the ticket it is not expected that the slump to the democratic candidate will be as great as desired by the democratic leaders. In fact there are those of the democratic faith who will take the advice of their managers as to the non-partisan feature and vote contrary to straight party principles, and while this will help in a way to overcome any disaffection that may exist in the republican ranks it will not be to the same extent, for the democrats with their national party in power will make a strenuous effort to wrest the state from republican control and no stone will be left unturned to accomplish this end. The strong feeling which existed for the renomination of Gov. Eberhart in the northern part of the state and the disappointment following his defeat does not necessarily mean that the republicans of that section will rush in a body to the support of the democratic candidate.

Delaware's Circular Boundary.

The northern boundary line of Delaware is circular because the charter given to Penn states that Pennsylvania was to be "bounded on the east by the Delaware river from twelve miles distant north of Newcastle town until the three and fortieth degree of north latitude," and that the southern boundary was to be "a circle drawn at twelve miles distant from the town of Newcastle northward and westward until the fortieth degree of north latitude and then by a straight line westward." This makes a circular boundary for northern Delaware unavoidable, and the facts above set forth explain a geographical curiosity that has puzzled many students.

Origin of "Bankrupt."

When a man fails in business he naturally feels all "broken up" about it, and it's natural to suppose that he feels pretty "rotten" about his crash, and both of these conditions of mind are indicated in the word bankrupt. Though bankruptcy suggests "high finance," it's a word of very humble origin. It was first heard many centuries ago in the market places of Italian cities. If a fruit vendor failed other vendors broke his bench or stall and drove him from the market place. He was then said to be "banca rotto," or bench broken, and from that expression comes the English word bankrupt.

it non-partisan—for the republicans. Especially so is this urged in the matter of the governorship and while there may be disaffection in some localities as to the head of the ticket it is not expected that the slump to the democratic candidate will be as great as desired by the democratic leaders. In fact there are those of the democratic faith who will take the advice of their managers as to the non-partisan feature and vote contrary to straight party principles, and while this will help in a way to overcome any disaffection that may exist in the republican ranks it will not be to the same extent, for the democrats with their national party in power will make a strenuous effort to wrest the state from republican control and no stone will be left unturned to accomplish this end. The strong feeling which existed for the renomination of Gov. Eberhart in the northern part of the state and the disappointment following his defeat does not necessarily mean that the republicans of that section will rush in a body to the support of the democratic candidate.

Delaware's Circular Boundary.

The northern boundary line of Delaware is circular because the charter given to Penn states that Pennsylvania was to be "bounded on the east by the Delaware river from twelve miles distant north of Newcastle town until the three and fortieth degree of north latitude," and that the southern boundary was to be "a circle drawn at twelve miles distant from the town of Newcastle northward and westward until the fortieth degree of north latitude and then by a straight line westward." This makes a circular boundary for northern Delaware unavoidable, and the facts above set forth explain a geographical curiosity that has puzzled many students.

Origin of "Bankrupt."

When a man fails in business he naturally feels all "broken up" about it, and it's natural to suppose that he feels pretty "rotten" about his crash, and both of these conditions of mind are indicated in the word bankrupt. Though bankruptcy suggests "high finance," it's a word of very humble origin. It was first heard many centuries ago in the market places of Italian cities. If a fruit vender failed other vendors broke his bench or stall and drove him from the market place. He was then said to be "banca rotto," or bench broken, and from that expression comes the English word bankrupt.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it incurable, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. BLIND PIGGERS RE-ARRESTED TODAY

Crosby People Arraigned by the Statute Under the State Liquor Law

ALL WAIVED EXAMINATION

Cases Will go to the Grand Jury for Action This Fall

County Attorney G. S. Swanson returned this afternoon from Crosby where several liquor cases were taken up and re-arrests were made under the statutes of Minnesota.

These cases are those which were up in municipal court in Crosby last week, the defendants being charged with selling liquor without a license. The cases were taken up under the ordinance of Crosby, forbidding the sale of liquor without a license and were found guilty in that court.

These cases are now taken up by the state of Minnesota under the statute governing the sale of liquor and will be prosecuted by the state department. Under the law the conviction in municipal court for violation of an ordinance does not prevent the state from prosecuting for the same offense under the state law.

Those up this morning at Crosby, were Henry Breen, Thos. G. Wellington, John Maljovich and Pete Stemich, who were represented by Benedict & Severance, and Evelyn Powell who was represented by M. E. Ryan.

Henry Breen, Thos. G. Wellington and Evelyn Powell were arrested under two courts and John Maljovich and Pete Stemich under one court.

The defendant all waived examination and were bound over to the grand jury.

COMMITTEE IS NAMED

To go to Washington With Protest Against Enforcement of "Dry" Provisions of Treaty

Victor L. Power, mayor of Hibbing, and chairman of the Business Men's Treaty committee, has announced the names of the five men who will go to Washington to protest before the interior department against the enforcement of the "dry" provisions of the new famous Indian treaty of 1855, says the Brainerd Pioneer.

The five men who will go to Washington, where they will also ask that a public hearing on the situation be granted, are: E. E. McDonald of Bemidji; Victor L. Power, of Hibbing; M. N. Kohl, of Cass Lake; Joseph Austin, of Chisholm, and F. X. Brown of Crosby.

This committee is named in consequence of the meeting held here last Tuesday, when it was decided that a delegation should be sent to Washington to ask a hearing and protest against the enforcing of the treaty. At that time it was decided that the committee should comprise one member from each of the three districts of the treaty territory, and two members at large.

The committee will meet soon to decide upon the trip which will probably be made next month.

TRAGIC DEATH OF MRS. F. C. BOLIN

Report in Portland Paper Tell the Details of How Former Brainerd Lady Met Death

WERE CONSULTING PHYSICIAN

Lady Was Mentally Unbalanced Due to Ill Health—Husband Was With Her at the Time

The Morning Oregonian, of August 8th, contains the following account of the death of a former Brainerd lady:

Leaping from a window on the seventh floor of the Stevens building, at the corner of West Park and Washington streets, in a fit of temporary insanity, Mrs. Anna M. Bolin, 58 years old, was dashed to death on the sidewalk below. It was during the noon hour and the streets were crowded. Scores saw Mrs. Bolin's terrible fall. She was the wife of F. C. Bolin, of 15 East Sixteenth St. The body, falling like a plummet, grazed J. L. Brockman, a printer of 329 Burnside street, knocking him to one side.

Mrs. Bolin, with her husband, had gone to the office of Dr. George F. Koehler shortly before. She had been undergoing treatment for nervous breakdown and stomach trouble. Excitable and extremely nervous, she paced the floor of the waiting-room. With her husband she entered the doctor's consultation room.

Immediately afterwards she went back into the waiting-room suddenly. A window on the West-Park street side was open. Beside this window sat Martin Meier, a farmer of Hillsdale, who was waiting to see the doctor.

Mrs. Bolin jumped to the window ledge. Mr. Meier, seeing what she was about to do, grabbed her left arm and attempted to pull her back, but Mrs. Bolin tore loose from his grip and threw herself into space.

"You'd better watch Mrs. Bolin," suggested Dr. Koehler to the husband just after she had left the room. "She seems very nervous."

Mr. Bolin went into the reception-room, but was too late.

A white-faced girl came downstairs from the Stevens building a few minutes later and accosted Patrolman Mallon, who was keeping the crowd back.

"Who was it fell from the window?" she asked.

"A Mrs. Bolin, I believe," answered the officer.

"Mother!" gasped the girl, and fell in a faint.

It was Margaret Bolin, 22-year-old daughter of the dead woman. She was employed in the building.

"I never dreamed of her doing such a thing," said the grief-stricken husband. "She had seemed a little better lately. Always she was nervous, but I did not think she would do such a horrible thing."

"It was because of her poor health," he continued, "that we left our home in Brainerd, Minn., eight years ago and came to Portland."

"Mrs. Bolin's condition made her subject to temporary insanity," said Dr. Koehler. "On one or two occasions I have been afraid she might try to kill herself. Today when she came into the office she was very nervous."

"She passed me, almost running, as she left Dr. Koehler's private office," said the doctor's stenographer. "I supposed she had left something in the waiting-room and was going after it."

"I absolutely couldn't hold her," said Martin Meier, who had tried to prevent the death leap. "I seized her arm, but she frantically tore herself loose and dropped."

"The body was taken to Dunning & McEntee's undertaking rooms. Mrs. Bolin leaves five children living in Portland."

Detectives Royle, Tichenor and Moloney made an investigation of the occurrence and later Deputy Coroner Dunning announced that no inquest would be held.

FRIDAY'S AUTO ACCIDENT

Mr. Olson's Version of the Collision Between the Auto and Motorcycle on Oak Street

Mr. Olson states that while riding eastward on the Oak street road Friday evening he discovered an automobile near the Britton driveway, standing, or possibly moving slowly across the street, the front of the automobile pointed southward, as though turning around, which, according to road rules, belonged to vehicles moving eastward. Mr. Olson states that the movements of the automobile seemed uncertain and that keeping on his own side of the road collided, striking the auto between its forward wheels at an angle of about 45 degrees.

This statement is made for the reason that he feels that the article which appeared in Saturday evening's Daily Dispatch is incorrect and misleading; that he was not running his machine at a "terrific" rate of speed but only at a moderate speed and that he was on the proper side of the road. The statement is corroborated by another motorcyclist who was riding about 50 feet behind Mr. Olson at the time.

At the Columbia

The Columbia presented a most worthy array of pictures last night. The same will be shown again this evening. The feature of the program was an Edison drama, "The Shattered Tree." It contains so much that is good that it easily could have been lengthened to four reels. Scenery and photography were perfect and the actors were very well chosen. One of the liveliest comedies we have ever seen kept everyone in the best of humor. The Selig drama dealing with South American smuggling was also very good. Tomorrow is the day that Alice Joyce appears in the first picture of her famous series. Each installment is complete. There will be no waiting until next week or next month for the end as has been customary in former serials.

POSTMASTERS ARE RESPONSIBLE

Postmasters are also required to effect prompt delivery of all perishable parcels arriving on Saturday nights and Sundays and it is especially desirable that these should bear special delivery stamps.

NISSWA BESTS HUBERT

Exciting National Game is Played With a Vengeance at Lake Resort With Usual Results

The Nisswa correspondent of the Dispatch sends in the following account of an exciting game played on Sunday in which he says: "The Nisswa Stars defeated Hubert Sunday by a score of 9 to 6. Hubert had a game framed up on Nisswa by getting seven players from St. Paul but got one slipped over them for Nisswa had three players from Pequot, the pitcher, catcher and left fielder. The Pequot players did fine work, as also did the players from Nisswa. Nisswa will play at Pequot next Saturday, the 22d. The Sunday game was attended by a good bunch of fans from Nisswa, Pequot and Hubert."

Antiquity of the Cucumber.

The cucumber was cultivated in Egypt before the days of Moses. If you are interested in the subject you will find that the children of Israel in the wilderness (there were about 3,000,000 of them) mourned the cucumbers which they had left behind them in the land of bondage. You will find this fact recorded in Numbers xi, 5.

BLIND PIGGERS RE-ARRESTED TODAY

Crosby People Arraigned by the Statute Under the State Liquor Law

ALL WAIVED EXAMINATION

Cases Will go to the Grand Jury for Action This Fall

County Attorney G. S. Swanson returned this afternoon from Crosby where several liquor cases were taken up and re-arrests were made under the statutes of Minnesota.

These cases are those which were up in municipal court in Crosby last week, the defendants being charged with selling liquor without a license. The cases were taken up under the ordinance of Crosby, forbidding the sale of liquor without a license and were found guilty in that court.

These cases are now taken up by the state of Minnesota under the statute governing the sale of liquor and will be prosecuted by the state department. Under the law the conviction in municipal court for violation of an ordinance does not prevent the state from prosecuting for the same offense under the state law.

Those up this morning at Crosby were Henry Breen, Thos. G. Wellington, John Maljovich and Pete Stemich, who were represented by Benedict & Severance, and Evelyn Powell who was represented by M. E. Ryan. Henry Breen, Thos. G. Wellington and Evelyn Powell were arrested under two courts and John Maljovich and Pete Stemich under one court.

The defendant all waived examination and were bound over to the grand jury.

Victor L. Power, mayor of Hibbing, and chairman of the Business Men's Treaty committee, has announced the names of the five men who will go to Washington to protest before the interior department against the enforcement of the "dry" provisions of the new famous Indian treaty of 1855, says the Bemidji Pioneer.

The five men who will go to Washington, where they will also ask that a public hearing on the situation be granted, are: E. E. McDonald of Bemidji; Victor L. Power, of Hibbing; M. N. Koll, of Cass Lake; Joseph Austin, of Chisholm, and F. X. Brown of Crosby.

This committee is named in consequence of the meeting held here last Tuesday, when it was decided that a delegation should be sent to Washington to ask a hearing and protest against the enforcing of the treaty. At that time it was decided that the committee should comprise one member from each of the three districts of the treaty territory, and two members at large.

The committee will meet soon to decide upon the trip which will probably be made next month.

The fire was of unknown origin and the Giggins Mercantile establishment and the Crosby Hardware company's branch store were totally destroyed, the fire being discovered at 2 a. m. The Postmaster General has issued an order directing that "On and after July 1, 1914, the compensation of rural carriers shall be based upon the length of the routes and the number of pieces and the weight of mail carried as shown by the records of the department." In accordance with the terms of this order which affects thousands of carriers all over the United States, the salaries of carriers having routes from the Brainerd office are as follows:

Route 1, Albert Young, carrier	$1176
Route 2, G. W. Fallon, carrier	1200

TRAGIC DEATH OF MRS. F. C. BOLIN

Report in Portland Paper Tell the Details of How Former Brainerd Lady Met Death

WERE CONSULTING PHYSICIAN

Lady Was Mentally Unbalanced Due to Ill Health—Husband Was With Her at the Time

The Morning Oregonian, of August 8th, contains the following account of the death of a former Brainerd lady:

Leaping from a window on the seventh floor of the Stevens building, at the corner of West Park and Washington streets, in a fit of temporary insanity, Mrs. Anna M. Bolin, 58 years old, was dashed to death on the sidewalk below. It was during the noon hour and the streets were crowded. Scores saw Mrs. Bolin's terrible fall. She was the wife of F. C. Bolin, of 15 East Sixteenth St. The body, falling like a plummet, grazed J. L. Brockman, a printer of 329 Burnside street, knocking him to one side.

Mrs. Bolin, with her husband, had gone to the office of Dr. George F. Koehler shortly before. She had been undergoing treatment for nervous breakdown and stomach trouble. Excitable and extremely nervous, she paced the floor of the waiting-room. With her husband she entered the doctor's consultation room.

Immediately afterwards she went back into the waiting-room suddenly. A window on the West-Park street side was open. Beside this window sat Martin Meier, a farmer of Hillsdale, who was waiting to see the doctor.

Mrs. Bolin jumped to the window ledge. Mr. Meier, seeing what she was about to do, grabbed her left arm and attempted to pull her back, but Mrs. Bolin tore loose from his grip and threw herself into space.

"You'd better watch Mrs. Bolin," suggested Dr. Koehler to the husband just after she had left the room. "She seems very nervous."

Mr. Bolin went into the reception-room, but was too late.

A white-faced girl came downstairs from the Stevens building a few minutes later and accosted Patrolman Mallon, who was keeping the crowd back.

"Who was it fell from the window?" she asked.

"A Mrs. Bolin, I believe," answered the officer.

"Mother!" gasped the girl, and fell in a faint.

It was Margaret Bolin, 22-year-old daughter of the dead woman. She was employed in the building.

"I never dreamed of her doing such a thing," said the grief-stricken husband. "She had seemed a little better lately. Always she was nervous, but I did not think she would do such a horrible thing."

"It was because of her poor health," he continued, "that we left our home in Brainerd, Minn., eight years ago and came to Portland."

"Mrs. Bolin's condition made her subject to temporary insanity," said Dr. Koehler. "On one or two occasions I have been afraid she might try to kill herself. Today when she came into the office she was very nervous."

"She passed me, almost running, as she left Dr. Koehler's private office," said the doctor's stenographer. "I supposed she had left something in the waiting-room and was going after it."

"I absolutely couldn't hold her," said Martin Meier, who had tried to prevent the death leap. "I seized her arm, but she frantically tore herself loose and dropped."

"The body was taken to Dunning & McEntee's undertaking rooms."

Mrs. Bolin leaves five children living in Portland.

Detectives Royle, Tichenor and Moloney made an investigation of the occurrence and later Deputy Coroner Dunning announced that no inquest would be held.

FRIDAY'S AUTO ACCIDENT

Mr. Olson's Version of the Collision Between the Auto and Motorcycle on Oak Street

Mr. Olson's version of the collision between the auto and motorcycle on Oak street.

Mr. Olson states that while riding eastward on the Oak street road Friday evening he discovered an automobile near the Britton driveway, standing, or possibly moving slowly across the street, the front of the automobile pointed southward, as though turning around, which, according to road rules, belonged to vehicles moving eastward. Mr. Olson states that the movements of the automobile seemed uncertain and that keeping on his own side of the road collided, striking the auto between its forward wheels at an angle of about 45 degrees.

This statement is made for the reason that he feels that the article which appeared in Saturday evening's Daily Dispatch is incorrect and misleading; that he was not running his machine at a "terrific" rate of speed but only at a moderate speed and that he was on the proper side of the road. The statement is corroborated by another motorcyclist who was riding about 50 feet behind Mr. Olson at the time.

At the Columbia

The Columbia presented a most worthy array of pictures last night. The same will be shown again this evening. The feature of the program was an Edison drama, "The Shattered Tree." It contains so much that is good that it easily could have been lengthened to four reels. Scenery and photography were perfect and the actors were very well chosen. One of the liveliest comedies we have ever seen kept everyone in the best of humor. The Selig drama dealing with South American smuggling was also very good. Tomorrow is the day that Alice Joyce appears in the first picture of her famous series. Each installment is complete. There will be no waiting until next week or next month for the end as has been customary in former serials.

The postmaster, on receiving a parcel in damaged or spoiled condition, should report the facts to the department and he is also instructed to bring to the attention of persons mailing parcels of perishable matter the desirability of securing special delivery treatment by affixing the necessary additional postage.

Postmasters are also required to effect prompt delivery of all perishable parcels arriving on Saturday nights and Sundays and it is especially desirable that these should bear special delivery stamps.

NISSWA BESTS HUBERT

The Nisswa correspondent of the Dispatch sends in the following account of an exciting game played on Sunday in which he says: "The Nisswa Stars defeated Hubert Sunday by a score of 9 to 6. Hubert had a game framed up on Nisswa by getting seven players from St. Paul but got one slipped over them for Nisswa had three players from Pequot, the pitcher, catcher and left fielder. The Pequot players did fine work, as also did the players from Nisswa. Nisswa will play at Pequot next Saturday, the 22d. The Sunday game was attended by a good bunch of fans from Nisswa, Pequot and Hubert."

Antiquity of the Cucumber.

The cucumber was cultivated in Egypt before the days of Moses. If you are interested in the subject you will find that the children of Israel in the wilderness (there were about 3,000,000 of them) mourned the cucumbers which they had left behind them in the land of bondage. You will find this fact recorded in Numbers xi, 5: "We remember the fish which we did eat in Egypt freely: the cucumbers and the melons and the leeks and the onions and the garlic."—Indianapolis News.
